Graduands Are Honored

Commencement Exercises At School Well Attended

The annual Commencement Banquet of the Grade Twelve Class was held on Friday, May 16, at 6:00 p.m., in the High School Auditorium. Aprroximately eighty guests enjoyed the cold turkey banquet which was served by the Grade 11 class. Rev. R. H. Johnson asked the grace and John Jamison, Jr., proposed the toast to the Queen.

At 7:30 the graduates moved to the stage for the commencement exercises. Dale Clarke, acting as M.C. for the evening, introduced the principal, F. Henheffer, who gave the address of welcome. A quartette of Grade eleven boys, George Sandburg, Bob Shrag, Gary Dunham and Errol Smith, sang two songs; David Saxby, the class historian gave an amusing account of the graduates. A recitation by Karin Terner was followed by a piano solo by Margaret Willard.

Guest speaker, Mr. E. G. Hansell, addressed the graduates with advice on further education and their future. The Bates sisters, Carolee and Judy, sang two songs after which John Jamison, class valedictorian, spoke to those present.

Mrs. Todd presented flowers to each of the graduates and besides telling amusing anecdotes about them, also told their chosen career. The graduates then sang their school song "Hail Alma Mater" and marched to the back of the gym where they received congratulations from those present.

Later the same evening a large crowd danced to the music of the Chords. The auditorium was decorated in the Vulcan tri-colors, green, black and white, with graduation diplomas and hats being the theme. Everyone reports an enjoyable time and the evening can be marked off as a success.

Hi-C Young People Entertain Mothers

On Sunday morning, May 12, members of the Vulcan United Hi-C Group entertained their mothers to breakfast in the church basement followed which a special Mother's Day program was enjoyed by all.

At the conclusion of breakfast, President Jay Scott, welcomed the guests and called upon Morgus Weringa to propose a toast to the mothers. Mrs. W. H. Richardson replied to this toast very appropriately and expressed her thanks on behalf of all the mothers for their invitation to join with the group for their breakfast meeting. Linda Grant then read a poem especially dedicated to the mothers and this was followed by a trio consisting of Myrna Jamison, Margaret Giles and Marion Knive, accompanied at the piano by Jean Anne Matlock.

Mrs. W. A. Shields, councillor, gave a brief outline of the activities of the Hi-C Group since its commencement in February and commended the young people for their keen enthusiasm and cooperation. There are some forty teen-age boys and girls enrolled in this organization and all work together whole heartedly in all undertakings. The group meet the first and third Tuesdays for their mid-week meeting at which time they have taken part in discussions on "Dating," a debate with members of the Couples' Club of the church, parties, etc., and they also meet on the second and fourth Sunday mornings for breakfast together at the church. At the Sunday meetings more serious topics such as worship and other religious topics have been discussed. These young people have undertaken to clean up the grounds at the church manse as well as grounds around the church itself and are now in the process of developing a badminton court in the lot adjoining the church.

Sylvia Salvage lead in prayer, following which Jean Anne Matlock favored the group with a piano solo.

Rev. Donald Sharpe then thanked the club for inviting him and his wife and family to partake of this enjoyable morning program and closed the meeting with the benediction.

None of twenty-two periodical publications appearing on Alberta newstands were found sufficiently objectionable to warrant a request for withdrawal by the Alberta Board on Objectionable Publications following examination of the material at a recent board meeting held at Lacombe. Since its inception in 1954 the board has been responsible for the withdrawal of 80 periodicals from newstands. Twenty-two have been re-instated following changes in policy of publishers. Board meeting are held every two months, at various points in the province. Next meeting will be held at a location to be determined late in May.

The board works in close co-operation with magazine distributors in the province. Complaints about contents of any periodical, received from the general public are always checked. If a periodical is deemed objectionable, co-operative agreement results in its withdrawal from the market. The board dones not censor novels in paper-back or other form, or newspapers.

A public meeting held in the evening was attended by some 300 persons. Board members R. H. Jeacock of Lethbridge outlined the aims of the board and spoke on the content of literature withdrawn from the market. Hon. A. R. Patrick, minister of Economic Affairs was chairman.

Will Field Local Team

Vulcan Admitted To Foothills Baseball League

With the folding of the Vulcan Elks in the Foothills Wheatbelt League, it was feared that Vulcan woud be without baseball for the coming summer.

However a local team has been formed and they have been granted a franchise in the Foothills League, consisting of teams from Champion, Carmangay, Lomond, Enchant, Claresholm, Stavely and Blackie, as well as the local crew.

With manager Harvey (Swede) Robertson directing workouts during the past two weeks the club is set to go against Blackie at Blackie on Wednesday, May 21.

They then face the acid test, playing the renowned Champion crew here on Sunday, May 25. Game time 2.30 p.m.

Swede reports good turnouts at practice and will have infielders Ken Gatenby, Marvin Hanson, Mel Jordan, Mike Jantzie, Jim Pruden and Al Plante, on hand. He can choose his outfield from Clare Schneider, Neil Garvin, Ken Jesse, Elain Middleton, Allan Fletcher, Robbie Thompson and Don Larkins.

Dave Mitchell will handle the catching chore while Mike Jantzie, Jordan and Thompson are expected to share hurling duties.

To quote manager Robertson, "We will probably start slowly, but expect to finish no lower than fourth in this eight-team league.

$5,000 Loss In Farm Fire

(By Ensign Correspondent)

Loss estimated at about $5,000 was caused by a fire at the Jim McFadden farm near Ensign in the early hours of Sunday morning.

A brooder house, garage and gas house, with their contents of 300 chicks, gas, grease, oil, tools, canvasses, machinery repair parts and many other articles. were burned to the ground. The car, luckily, had not been put in the garage that night.

It is believed that the fire was caused by an overheated brooder stove, but no one in the house was aware of anything wrong until arising on Sunday morning.

Mrs. Jane Taggart Now 92 Years Old

A Mother's Day family dinner in honor of Mrs. Jane S. Taggart, well known former resident of the district west of Milo, was held at the home of her son, Fred Taggart of Langdon, on May 11.

Mrs. Taggart, who reached the age of 92 years on May 9, was able, though blind, to enjoy the special occasion with those present and the flowers and cards sent by many well-wishers.

A native of Buckhaven, Fifeshire, Scotland, she came with her family, the Thomsons, to a farm at Grand River, Ont., at the age of 15. She later married David Taggart of York and resided there for some 28 years.

In 1909, with their family of five sons and three daughters, the Taggarts moved to Alberta and homesteaded west of Milo. Mr. Taggart died in 1934.

Since 1936, Mrs. Taggart has lived in Calgary and these last few years has made her home with her eldest daughter, Mrs. Macomber, or with her son, Fred at Langdon.

The Advocate joins with her many friends in extending best wishes to this grand old lady.

THE WEATHER

Warm weather has prevailed this week, with temperatures in the 70 to 80 above range. Some seeding remains to be done west and north, but should be completely finished by the end of the month. Top soil is dry and rain would be very welcome.

Advice to the loyelorn is the oldest syndicate feature in newspapers.

From Wheat To Wrought Iron And Chinchillas

About three weeks ago C. R. Martin dropped into the Advocate office and changed his mailing address from Vulcan to R.R. No. 1, Willow Point, Campbell River, B.C. With that change in location goes a new occupation almost as opposite to farming as Vulcan is to Vancouver Island. Mr. Martin's main acquisition is a wrought iron works and ornamental furniture store and in addition the deal includes a new home, some acreage and a thriving 200 member Chinchilla farm.

It has been a busy round of familiarization for both Mr. and Mrs. Martin. He has been going over the production of ornamental gates, fences and such while Mrs. Martin has set her hand to the care, maintenance and recording system involved in growing Chinchillas.

The two boys of the family are having their share of new experiences as well. A stream runs near the home and their reports of the first try with a fishing line are that the trout are hungry and willing.

Mr. Martin made a fast trip home last week to clear up his business here and explained, "I had to come now because when I get back the previous owner of the store will be leaving and there won't be a chance for travelling for a long time."

Their home is a quarter of a mile from a beach and faces the channel of ocean a few miles from the Ripple Rock site. Of that water course which was recently in the news when the protruding peaks were blown up, Mr. Martin said he had heard of boat pilots taking ships over the now submerged remains and still gritting their teeth at the thought of what used to be below them.

Thirteen pieces in a "baker's dozen" originated when King Louis of France warned all bakers who gave under measure that they would be beheaded.

Stockpiles

The proposal of the Canadian minister of defence that stockpiles of food should be established in Europe seems to be reasonable and likely to be advantageous to both buyers and sellers of the food. One thing certain about war, if the world should be foolish enough to drift into another one, is that the seas would almost immediately become unsafe for shipping. The chances are that the Russians, who are known to be building submarines at a great rate, have also devised some new tactics for submarine attack, and before effective measures of defence could be prepared, there would be heavy losses of merchant shipping carrying supplies to Europe.

The possession of stockpiles of food in the NATO countries would prevent their being starved into submission if war were to come without warning. If the stockpiles were not needed, so much the better.

From the Canadian point of view, the proposal seems to promise some relief from the burden of the wheat surplus, inasmuch as it would move the present Canadian stock-piles across the Atlantic. It should still be noted that the remedy can be used only once. If the Canadian taxpayer is to obtain any lasting benefit, removal of the surplus to Europe should be accompanied by a policy of reduced production in Canada. Otherwise, possession of the wheat by Euorpean countries would give them a bargaining weapon usable to beat down the price of shipments designed for current consumption. —THE PRINTED WORD

The shipping quota has been raised in and around Camrose, yet local elevators remain about half empty. If this condition prevails in many shipping points it is about time for the Ottawa authorities to find out why. If the actual statistical position of grain in the hands of the farmers differs too greatly from the book figures arrived at over the Bureau of Statistics desks in Ottawa, it is time that the big bogey should be lifted. —CAMROSE CANADIAN

THE CHECK IN THE MAIL

Dear Sir:

In reply to your request to send a check, I wish to inform you that the present condition of my bank account makes it almost impossible.

My scattered financial condition is due to: federal laws, state laws, county laws, brother-in-laws, sister-in-laws, and outlaws. Through these laws, I am compelled to pay a business tax, amusement tax, school tax, liquor tax, gas tax, water tax, state tax, income tax, food tax, furniture tax and excise tax. I am required to get a business license, car license, operator's license, truck license, not to mention a marriage license and a dog license.

I am also required to contribute to every society organization which the genius of man is capable of bringing to life: to women's relief, the unemployed relief, and the gold diggers relief, also to the Salvation chest, Red Cross, purple cross, blue cross, white cross and double-cross—Boy Scout, Girl Scout, Cub Scout, YMCA, YWCA, Boys' Ranch and Boys' Town.

For my own safety I am required to carry health insurance, life insurance, liability insurance, earthquake insurance, tornado insurance, unemployment compensation insurance, and old age insurance.

My business is so governed that it is no easy matter to find out who owns it.

I am inspected, expected, suspected, disrespected, rejected, examined, re-examined, informed, required, summoned, fined commanded and compelled, until I provide an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need, desire or hope of the human race.

Simple because I refuse to donate to something or other, I am boycotted, talked about, lied about, held up, held down and robbed until I am almost ruined.

I can tell you honestly that except for a MIRACLE that happened I would not be able to enclose this check. The wolf that comes to so many doors nowadays just had pups in my kitchen. I sold them and here is the money.

Yours truly,
Anony Mous.

Of Many Things

WILL POWER

I have a secret that will put you one up on rivals.

Some years ago a smart psychologist pointed out that whenever will power and imagination come in conflict, imagination wins. Almost immediately, 98% of people tossed will power out the window and put their chips on imagination. It became old fashioned to speak of will power.

Nevertheless, the secret I disclose to you now is this: Will power is a billion times more important to you than imagination — and the two need not come into conflict. With most of the people looking down their nose at will power, you can soon excell by giving yours the respect it deserves.

And it deserves a great deal of respect. I agree with Dr. Russell Conway, who says: "There has been altogether too much talk about the secret of success. Success has no secret. Her voise is forever ringing through the market place and crying in the wilderness, and the burden of her cry is one word — will. Any man who hears and heeds that cry is equipped fully to climb to the very heights of life."

Every day brings opportunities to exercise will power. Grasp those opportunities, even in small matters, and the power of your will increases in all directions.

An experiment proved that to be true. A group of college boys exercised the grip of their left hands. In each case, it was discovered that when a boy had increased the strength of his left hand, there was also a remarkable increase in the strength of his right — even though it had not been exercised. The conclusion was simple: The will, as well as the muscle, had been strengthened by determination to improve.

Personal improvement is not a popular gospel these days, perhaps, but it is a valid one. Somebody must do the extra working, thinking, planning and producing if we're to have the good things everybody is demanding. Governments produce nothing, and if they are to continue giving to one group or another they must extract the wherewithal from some other group. Demands on government have grown so large lately that governments have been extracting funds from us all, rich and poor, so it has reached a point where we'll either have to stop demanding or start producing a great deal more efficiently than we are today.

Such productivity can be expected only from men and women with the will to improve. Those who lack it will be left at the post.

Safflower

Although Safflower has been grown since ancient times in India and the Middle East as an edible oil crop, it is Canada's newest oilseed crop. It came into commercial production in Southern Alberta in 1957. In the United States this crop has grown to over 100,000 acres in the past 10 years. The oil from safflower is marketed for industrial purposes and with Canada so deficient in edible oils it is possible that safflower would serve best by filling a part of this country's domestic requirements.

Though safflower has reached commercial production, many problems remain for the agronomist and the plant breeder to overcome. These problems if not solved may well endanger the prospects of this crop in Canada. Safflower is a hardy plant and has done well under dryland farming, and on irrigated land. However, farmers may find that under certain weather conditions the seed does not fill out properly. This is though to be due to too much moisture at blossoming time. Studies are underway to learn more about this characteristic and to select lines which might tolerate higher humidity.

Safflower must be seeded early even in the southern areas, because it requires a long season to mature. It has about the same frost resistance as barley and therefore is not endangered by early seeding. Particular attention is being given to the selection of lines which are early in maturity.

The safflower plant is subject to several diseases but so far these have been of minor importance. Commercial varieties are susceptible to rust but rust resistant types are known and are being used in the breeding program. Root rots frequently have done considerable damage on irrigated land particularly in some varieties. Selection is underway to increase the resistance to root rots and also leaf diseases which are found more frequently in some locations than others and in certain seasons.

Safflower is grown for the oil contained in the seed. Particular attention is being given in the breeding program to those selections which are higher in oil content. In making yield comparisons with other oilseed crops, it is important to take into account the fact that safflower seed has 35 to 50 percent hull. If safflower is to find a place among the oilseed crops in Canada it will have to maintain its rank on the basis of oil returns per acre.

SPRAY WEEDS EARLY

It has been found that weeds do most damage, in competition with growing crops, during the early stages of growth. For this reason farmers usually plan to start spraying about June 1st or very shortly afterwards. In control of broad leafed weeds the choice lies between two types of spray, 2,4-D for wheat and barley, and MCP for oats, flax and legume crops. At the same time, TCA may be used for narrow leafed weeds such as green foxtail in flax. Whatever product is used, it is important to follow the instructions carefully.

Shaving was originally a protective measure since long beards were easy for opponents in combat to seize.

UNINVITED GUESTS

As soon as the weather turns warm, the biting and stinging insects, together with germ-bearing houseflies, come to life and start home-hunting. Houseflies will swarm into the house and set up breeding places, the blackfly and mosquito will come in search of meals. It is always a good idea to instal window and door screens early in the season to prevent the entry of the winged pests. Care should always be taken to wrap food refuse and put it into garbage containers that have tight lids, to keep out houseflies and other vermin that spread disease.

MAJORVILLE

A letter from Vernoon tells that Mrs. Hooker suffered a badly bruised face and black eyes when she tripped and fell on the side walk while shopping in Vernon. At first the doctor thought that her nose and thumb were broken, but X-rays revealed no broken bones. Mrs. Hooker is now much improved from the ordeal.

Mr. and Mrs. Alf Heather went to Brooks on Friday, where Al visited the chiropractor for treatments.

Mrs. Laura Sutherland arrived home during the week after spending the past two months in England.

Mr. and Mrs. Arie Vooys of Calgary were weekend visitors at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Godkin.

Under the auspicies of the United Church, services will be held at Liberty Community Association Hall at 10:00 a.m., each Sunday for the summer months. The services will be unrer the direction of student minister William Barter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Heather, Joanne and granddaughter Terry Heather, were guests on Mother's Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs Damien Corbeill of Cluny.

Visitors on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Clemmons were Mr. and Mrs. Strang Fraser, Jr., and Mrs. Strang Fraser, Sr., and Kenny of Cluny.

Seeding of barley, wheat and oats is now pretty well complete and seeding is now underway on speciality crops like flax and rape seed. There has not been any appreciable rain fall so far, after a day of terrific winds last Monday a shower came in the late afternoon and registered from a half to a third of an inch in different parts of the district. Everyone is agreed that rains would be most welcome any time.

The community of Majorville joins in the many well wishers who greeted Mrs. Nellie Burke last Tuesday as she passed her 81st milestone. For her years, Mrs. Burke is active and well and always a lady with a way with flowers and growing things; on her birthday she had a Christmas cactus that was a mass of blooms. She told her guests that the plant blooms two and sometimes three times a year. Several friends and neighbors called and enjoyed a lovely tea on her natal day. Mrs. Larry Umscheid baked and decorated a cake for the occasion. Several great grandchildren also came to add their best wishes for "Grannie's" birthday.

The new black and pink Chev from the east of the district to town these days belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Clemmons.

Having completed seeding on his farm here Ray Wellman moved his outfits to the farm at Champion during the week.

Mrs. Bruce Henry and Mrs. Hugh Winch attended a Stanley tea on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Lee Robertson of Queenstown.

How far do you have to travel for a much needed repair? On Friday Mrs. Hugh Winch went to Milo and tried to pick up a repair there, no luck, so on to Queenstown, no repair there, well try Arrowwood, sorry, no repair there, either Gleichen, the same story, try Bassano, ah eureka, that was not in vain, then on home vie the ferry. At Arrowwood Mrs. Winch picked up her daugter, Mrs. Melvin Beagle, who made the rounds with her then after super Mrs. Winch took Francie home, quite a bit of driving for a repair.

Marvin Winch who has been over at Shouldice helping his uncle Same Francis with seeding operations, came home last evening.

Milo-Queenstown WFA

The May meeting of the Milo-Queenstown WMF met at the home of Mrs. Jack Deitz with 15 members and six visitors in attendance. The meeting opened with tthe singing of a hymn and the "Lord's Prayer."

A bulletin on promotion and radio work was read by Mrs. Bob Deitz and it was voted to send $10 for radio work, $100 was voted for the church board to help with current expenses. A letter from Pastor and Mrs. Evanson who are now missionaries in Africa was passed around to be read by the members. Mrs. Schaub reported the sum of over $120 cleared from the Mother's Day tea and apron, home-cooking and plant sale, and the WMF members would like to thank all those who helped to make this effort a success.

After some discussion it was decided not to participate in a booth at the Lion's Sports Day in June at Lake MacGregor. Mrs. Chester Thompson, Mrs. Jack Deitz, Mrs. Bob Deitz and Mrs. Mel Schaub, expected to go to the district conference in Claresholm on Saturday, May 17, but which one would act as the delegate was left for these members to decide. A decision on whether to hold a July meeting this year and not a September meeting was held over for the next meeting. It was felt that the fall meeting is the one that is a greater effort to attend, as a number of members don't attend the stampede now a days. A name for the church after it is moved to Milo was brought up and will be dealt at a later date.

Pastor Foster conducted the devotional portion of the meeting, after which a hymn followed by prayer by Pastor Foster closed the meeting. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. George Heather, Mrs. Bob Deitz and Mrs. Bob Umsheid, who served a lovely lunch. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Bob Deitz.

SERVICE BOARD NOTES

Considering the ease of eradication and the slight cost, buckbrush is a pasture weed that should be exterminated. This weed is very common to western Canada and is taking out of use a large percentage of some pastures. At Lacombe they obtained excellent control by spraying in the bud stage at the rate of 16 ounces 24D acid per acre, then following with one-half the amount the next year. It has been our observation in this district that buckbrush sprayed along road allowances with 24D has been almost eliminated in the one year. Native pastures left down for long periods, especially if overgrazed, tend to become over-run with various weeds of which buckbrush is the most common, this plant has been with us so long that we have been taking it for granted.

This article is mainly to bring to the attention of farmers how native pastures can be improved by the use of chemical spraying.

If cultivated pastures seem to have become unproductive over the years, they can be improved by working up with cultivators, tool bars etc., then followed by an application of fertilizer, nitrogen fertilizer usually being the most effective, an application of 100 pounds to the acre paying better than a lighter application.

Fertilizer response varies from year to year according to rainfall, sunshine and other conditions, but nitrogen is most often the element needed in this area on grass crops, but a phosphate fertilizer will quite often improve a legume crop, these crops of course build up nitrogen reserves on their own account.

Purchasing a Farm Under F.P.A.

Many farmers have not interpreted the Farm Purchase Act correctly, says G. R. Sterling, chairman of Alberta's Conservation and Utilization Committee. Let's take two farmers for example — the one wishing to buy the other's farm. We shall refer to them as Mr. Smith, buyer and Mr. Jones, seller. Having agreed on the total price of the land involved and the number of years Mr. Smith will have for payment, they bring their transaction to the Farm Purchase Credit Board for processing. They must not make up a sale of agreement between themselves, nor is it possible for Mr. Smith to obtain actual cash from a Farm Purchase Board to pay Mr. Jones.

When their appplication is approved Mr. Smith must make a down payment of 20% of the purchase price and leave it with the Board. After Mr. Jones transfers his land to the Board, he receives the 20% cash and an agreement of sale covering 40% of the total price. This agreement of sale is guaranteed by the Provincial and the Municipality, and is horored whether Mr. Smith, the buyer, pays for the land or not. After the Provincial Government has proof that the land is registered in the name of the Farm Purchase Board, the loan of 40% is forwarded to the Board. This in turn is given to Mr. Jones. When the whole transaction is completed, Mr. Jones, the seller, receives 60% in cash and an agreement of sale covering the remainder.

The agreement of sale covering the remaining 40% carries a stipulation that Mr. Jones will accept 10% of any loss that may occur. This does not mean 10% of the total price but rather 10% of any loss—for example, if Mr. Smith (the original purchaser) is dispossessed and if the farm has to be sold for less than the amount owed to Mr. Jones and the governby the Board. In most cases this loss would be very small. A person making a private sale must accept complete loss whereas under this Act he accepts only 10% of the loss.

PRIDE IN WORK

The craftsman habitually does well what he has to do. He isn't prompted by pride in being able to do something, but satisfaction in being able to do it well.

Every job has its own dignity. A person may develop pride in his work regardless of what it is. A man using a wooden "pusher" to unload grain from box-cars found a better way to get his weight behind it, turning a job of the utmost drudgery into a satisfying adventure. A locomotive engineer loves the feeling of responsibility that comes over him when he gets behind the throttle. Carl Sandburg reminds us of the fish crier in Chicago whose face " is that of a man terribly glad to be selling fish, terribly glad that God made fish, and customers to whom he may call his wares from a push-cart.
